

EVENTSHARK.

B2B VIDEO PRODUCTION

Barrett Distribution - Clip Program & Menu

A recurring stream of publish-ready clips, every one anchored by dialogue and cut for social. This doc pairs the program and pricing with the full 20-clip menu, so the plan and the deliverables live in one place.

PREPARED FOR
Barrett Distribution

PREPARED BY EventShark

DATE
August 11, 2026

THE PROGRAM

GREAT WHITE

$5,000

20 clips · $250 per clip

Cadence 2 / week

Term 10 weeks

Total clips 20 finished

Recurring Clip Drops

Two finished clips every week for ten weeks, twenty polished videos in total. We pull the best moments from your existing shoot footage, cut them for social, and drop them on a set day each week so the feed never goes quiet. The 20 clips in the menu below are the exact program.

2

CLIPS / WK

10

WEEKS

20

TOTAL

BUNDLE	CLIPS	PER CLIP	TOTAL
Reef Shark	5 clips	$300	$1,500
Tiger Shark	10 clips	$275	$2,750
Great White THIS PLAN	20 clips	$250	$5,000

- Finished 30 to 90 sec social video
- Color and audio cleanup
- 3 revision rounds per clip
- Delivered 2 per week, set drop day
- Branded captions and light graphics
- Licensed music
- Horizontal or vertical export
- Cut from your existing footage

BILLING

50% to start, 50% on final delivery. Or pay in full upfront, Net 30.

TURNAROUND

Rolling delivery of 2 clips per week on a set drop day across the 10-week term.

GOOD TO KNOW

Assumes enough shot footage for 20 distinct clips. If the well runs dry we can slot a refresh shoot.

THE CLIP MENU - NUMBERED (COMPILATIONS & SOLOS)

Every clip is anchored by dialogue: soundbite, b-roll, soundbite, b-roll, never pure warehouse b-roll. All 30 to 90s. Compilations lead.

C = compilation · S = solo

THE PITCH · WHY BARRETT

01 Why Brands Choose Barrett

C · COMPILATION

Scott + Bryan + Katherine · ~70s

THE CUT

Scott: "It's not about the warehouse you can hear out here, it's really about our people and how we're engaging with clients."

Bryan: "When a client comes to Barrett, they're coming to solve a problem. We're not selling on price, we're selling on service, we're selling on engagement."

Katherine: "We showcase our people. That's ultimately why people choose Barrett, it's because of our people."

B-ROLL Values wall (C8751), team huddles, people engaging with clients on the floor. Tighter "why us" pitch, no one-building content, so it stays distinct from Clip005/006.

02 Forever 3PL

C · COMPILATION

Katherine + Bryan + Scott · ~55s

THE CUT

Katherine: "We're a forever 3PL. We want brands vested in their growth, not the ones hopping from 3PL to 3PL. We'll be there through the growth and help you scale."

Bryan: "This industry, for longevity, is timing and fit."

Scott: "Our average client relationship is over seven years."

B-ROLL Long-tenure client zones, a brand's area growing over time, empty-to-full.

03

I Am an Owner

C · COMPILATION

Bill + Scott · ~70s

THE CUT

Bill: "Everybody in our building runs this as if they're the owner. If this was my money, how would I spend it? If I was wrapping a box, how would I do it most efficiently and cost-effective?"

Scott: "About 70% of our workforce is full-time, and through the Great Game of Business, everybody shares in the profit, open-book."

Scott: "On any given year we're promoting dozens of employees, from hourly to lead, from lead to supervisor."

B-ROLL Clean aisles, associates squaring pallets, the "I am an Owner" values wall, a promotion/recognition moment. (No Bryan/Kat ownership soundbite exists, this is a Bill + Scott build.)

04 We Own Our Mistakes

C · COMPILATION

Bill + Alex · ~55s

THE CUT

Bill: "I'll tell companies here, we make mistakes, especially in the first 90 days. They tend to be small and we fix them fast."

Alex: "We're not perfect. If there's an error, we notify the client immediately, look at the root cause, and take steps so it doesn't happen again."

Bill: "We own those mistakes, learn from them, and communicate exactly what we're going to do to eliminate them."

B-ROLL An ops stand-up, two people problem-solving at a screen, a manager talking a client through a fix.

05 The $1.5M Chargeback Win

C · COMPILATION

Bill + Bryan · ~55s

THE CUT

Bill: "One of our largest customers had a huge chargeback problem hurting their bottom line."

Bill: "We went to them with suggestions and resolutions, things we'd do differently if it was us. Within 12 months we'd cut it by nearly $1.5 million, and now it's almost obsolete."

Bryan: "We have people in the building who can walk out and find a chargeback on a pallet in three seconds. That's just really hard to replace."

B-ROLL A labeled pallet / barcode (C8703), compliance scanning, an operator inspecting a pallet. Bill sets up the win; Bryan's line is the closer.

06 A Partner You Can Call

C · COMPILATION

Katherine + Bill + Bryan · ~60s

THE CUT

Katherine: "Having a 3PL who is a true partner is critical, you're handing over your entire business to a company."

Bill: "I build personal connections with our customers. They can call me on the weekend, anytime at night, and go to sleep knowing the business is handled the way I told them it would be."

Bryan: "All of us at Barrett want our customers to make more money and to do well, because that's how we grow."

B-ROLL A GM on a call after hours, a client handshake/meeting, the floor running smoothly at night. Bryan's line closes on why they care.

07 What Onboarding Looks Like

C · COMPILATION

Alex + Katherine + Bill · ~75s

THE CUT

Alex: "It's a very inquisitive and very involved team, from operations to IT to project management. We ask a lot of questions and try to set you up for success."

Alex: "If you have the best forecasting for inbound, outbound, and returns, it helps us staff the operation, get the right racking, the right pack stations, and any automation we can deploy."

Katherine: "And from day one you get an onboarding call with marketing too, how can we support and amplify you?"

Alex: "Honestly, if a client doesn't have to contact us for anything, that's a good sign, it means everything's running smoothly."

B-ROLL Onboarding whiteboard (C8890), a zone getting racked and set up, pack stations, WMS dashboards (C8865). Alex's last line is the payoff.

08 You Won't Outgrow Us

C · COMPILATION

Scott + Bryan + Katherine · ~60s

THE CUT

Scott: "We've scaled brands from one building in New England, to California, to Memphis. A brand is not going to be able to outgrow us."

Bryan: "One building, every product, we can do whatever you need."

Katherine: "They can start direct-to-consumer, go into B2B, then full omnichannel, and stay with Barrett instead of going to multiple providers."

B-ROLL Wide multi-client floor, wildly different products side by side, deep racking for scale.

09

We Thrive Under Pressure

S · SOLO

Bill · ~50s

THE CUT

Bill: "We don't lock an account to a certain headcount. We cross-train our teams so we can handle any spike."

Bill: "Amazon Prime Day, Black Friday, Cyber Monday, those are the times we thrive the most."

Bill: "We like the pressure, we like to get the volume out, we like to have record-breaking days for our customers."

B-ROLL Fast-paced floor, forklifts moving, rapid picking and packing, a busy shipping dock. Build to the "record-breaking days" button.

10

Empty to Amazing

C · COMPILATION

Bill + Alex · ~50s

THE CUT

Bill: "It starts as an empty, unracked building, and it turns into something amazing: a completely full facility with customers in it."

Alex: "It's great to see that all the hard work our teams do pays off, it gives a great experience for the customer, helps them save money, and helps them grow their brand."

B-ROLL Empty racking, built and labeled, product in, a full, humming facility. Alex's line lands the takeaway (why it matters for the client).

11

We Promote Our Clients

C · COMPILATION

Bryan + Katherine · ~75s

THE CUT

Bryan: "We go out of our way to really promote our clients. Nobody wants to hear about supply chain, you want the cool Instagram and TikTok videos. So we highlight our brands and mention them by name."

Katherine: "We print giant billboards, every brand has a designated area with their branding across the warehouse. We want everyone who shows up to feel invested in the client."

Katherine: "Everyone here feels like, I'm showing up for Girl Scout Cookies, or Rhoback, or Johnnie-O, or Delta Galil."

B-ROLL Brand billboards on the floor, branded client product (C8868/C8891), the pack floor with brand neon (C8889), the client logos by name. (Folds in the old "billboards" clip.)

12

Marketing With Soul

S · SOLO

Katherine · ~65s

THE CUT

Katherine: "People watch people. Nobody wants the regular corporate drip that has no soul. So we ask, how can we bring some soul into what we do?"

Katherine: "We did a Hot Ones episode, we recreated the format and had one of our operators and Bryan Corbett eat the hot wings. We've done a 60-second supply-chain game show, a FaceTime series."

Katherine: "And when we sit down with a client and both teams merge, it's really magical, we're always learning about new things and finding new ways to keep people engaged."

B-ROLL Behind-the-scenes of the content shoots, the Hot Ones setup, brand neon, quick cuts of the fun social pieces.

13 We're Not a Company, We're People

C · COMPILATION

Katherine + Bill + Alex · ~65s

THE CUT

Katherine: "We're not just a company, we are people. Everyone here has been an operator for 20-plus years. They know almost more than the brand how to handle their supply chain from A to Z."

Alex: "Success for me is seeing my team grow, seeing people get promoted."

Bill: "We have people that have been at Barrett 12, 15 years. It's the culture we build and the talent we invest in."

B-ROLL Faces on the floor, seasoned operators, a team huddle, the employee recognition wall (C8706).

14 What You Do Matters

S · SOLO

Bill · ~50s

THE CUT

Bill: "We like people who are open to change, fast-paced. Nobody gets up wanting to do a bad job, it's up to us to give them the skills and make sure they understand what they're doing."

Bill: "But what separates us is we show people how what they do impacts the business, if you ship a box wrong, here's the cause and effect."

Bill: "So people understand: oh yeah, I do matter, and here's what I'm contributing every day."

B-ROLL New-hire training, someone being shown a process, a proud associate at their station.

15 Employee Spotlight: Michael Kelly

S · STREET

Street interview · ~35s

THE CUT

Michael Kelly: "I've been in shipping about two years, I love the family feeling here. It's a family-owned business that's large enough to grow your business anywhere."

B-ROLL Casual talks-to-camera on the floor, his crew, his day-to-day (C8695).

16

What Is a 3PL?

C · COMPILATION

Katherine + Bryan · ~65s

THE CUT

Katherine: "A 3PL, we take your entire supply chain and run it: warehousing, transportation, distribution. It's for brands that want to go omni-channel and hand all that work to a company that makes their life easier."

Katherine: "You focus on marketing, sales and branding, we take the logistics and the headaches."

Bryan: "Self-fulfillment versus a 3PL, that's for the early-stage founder. You can self-fulfill for a year or two, nothing wrong with that, but you'll pay for it."

B-ROLL Wide establishing shots, product flowing in and out, trucks at the dock, a simple on-screen explainer over the b-roll works well. Bryan's line adds the "when do you need one" angle.

17

Chris Barrett - "New CEO" Bit

S · COMEDIC

Comedic · ~30s

THE CUT

Chris Barrett: "I'm Chris Barrett, CEO of Barrett Distribution Centers. Now that I'm stepping into the CEO role, my vision is to grow it internationally, 50 countries in 20 years. We're going to be the next Amazon."

B-ROLL He walks off camera, sits, delivers deadpan; a fake corporate-vision title card sells the joke. (He's the summer marketing intern.)

CLIENT SHOWCASES

Each anchored with a story, not just b-roll.

18

Cavender's Showcase

C · COMPILATION

Katherine + Alex + Scott · ~45s

THE CUT

Katherine: "Everyone here is fully immersed into the brands we carry, and it shows on the warehouse floor."

Alex: "Cavender's, the wall of belts, the boots, the hats, 40 to 45,000 SKUs, and we run robots on the account."

Scott: "When you see four or five completely different portfolio clients under one roof, that's a high-trust situation."

B-ROLL The wall of belts (C8704), boots and hats, the Cavender's robots zone. Open on the soundbite so viewers know what they're seeing, then let the product breathe.

19

Kulani Kinis Showcase

C · COMPILATION

Scott + Alex · ~45s

THE CUT

Scott: "Right beside our garage-door client we have the hottest women's bikini company on Instagram, Kulani Kinis, who was self-fulfilling in Australia for ten years."

Alex: "They came here for weeks during onboarding to train our team, and it's been great to watch their business grow over the last year and a half."

B-ROLL The Kulani neon, the swimwear product, their branded zone, the returns area. Story-first, then product. (Different angle than the full Clip011.)

Katherine + Bryan · ~50s

THE CUT

Katherine: "Everyone who comes into the warehouse feels like, I'm showing up for Girl Scout Cookies, or Rhoback, or Johnnie-O."

Bryan: "We go out of our way to promote our clients, nobody wants to hear about supply chain, they want to see the brands."

Katherine: "Everyone here is fully, fully immersed into the brands that we carry."

B-ROLL A montage of client products and their branded zones: Genuines, Rhoback, Johnnie-O, Girl Scout Cookies, Delta Galil, HOOEY. The VO makes it clearly "Barrett's clients," not random b-roll. Tag the brands when it posts.